National swimming records take a tumble

By Rod Morris

NATIONAL records continued to tumble on the last day in the pool at the 16th annual AUSSI Masters Swim Championships in Devonport yesterday.

With the action turning to Lake Eugenana for the Australian 5 km and 20 km long course titles today, swimmers from around the nation enjoyed their last day of competition.

Four more Australian records were established and Tasmanian swim clubs Devonport Devils, Launceston Aussi and Hobart Masters maintained their high profile status in the national club points title.

Organisers of the swim meet, who were being kept busy late last night finalising points in both in the club and individual age categories, were expected to announce all winners early this morning.

Victorian swimmer Jobst Schmalenbach, of the Power Points Club, set a new record in the 200 m breaststroke for 35-39 year olds, eclipsing the 1987 mark of 2.45.63, created by Coogee-Randwick's T. Fisher. The new mark is 2.44.87.

Other new marks set yesterday were in the men's 30-34 years 200 m breaststroke by Noel Kime, of Queensland club Rockhampton Crocs, in the women's 25-29 100 m freestyle by Neroli Nixon, of the Doncaster Dolhins (Victoria) and in the men's 60-64 100 m freestyle by Cronulla Sutherland's Jack Brownjohn.

Tasmania's successful swimmers yesterday included Devonport Devils members Kathy Smith, Royce Bracken and Frank Webb, Launceston Aussi's Marg Taplin, Madge Gaussen, Vicki Titley, Peter Goss (two wins) and Kenneth Lawson and Kathy Hawkes, Justine Bamford, Jeannie Baxter-Reid, Doug Job and Ivan Cunningham, of the Hobart Masters.
